

Sam's Story

My name is Sam and I am 9. I've just come home from school and Mum is taking me to my auntie's house.

I am happy because I will see my cousins and I like to play with them.

We go to the car and I get in, but Mum goes back into the house to get something that she wants to give to auntie.

I hear shouting and laughing and when I look out of the back window I can see my friends outside their house.

I am watching them when Mum gets back into the car. Mum says 'Sit in your seat and put your belt on, Sam'.

1. Because I am trying to see who my friends are talking to, I stay where I am so I can carry on watching them.

What should Sam have done?

2. Mum starts to drive off and her phone rings. It is always in her bag on the front seat.

What should Sam's Mum have done?

3. Suddenly, the car jerks and I am thrown backwards ...

What do you think has happened?

Finish Sam's story...
